

RELIGIOUS AS A BULLPUP BUT STRONG FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

What the Red Triangle Means to the Soldiers in Camp Told in a Letter From an Officer Who Has Come Up From the Ranks and is Without Religious Sentiment.

The following letter is from Lieut. Toscoe Saunders, who enlisted in the 71st Regiment as a private at the beginning of the Mexican border campaign in 1916, served in Texas as private and corporal with his regiment; later did guard duty in Columbia county; was one of the few National Guardsmen admitted to the first officers' training camp at Plattsburg; graduated from Plattsburg and assigned to duty at Camp Wadsworth, first with a machine gun company of the 12th N. Y. Infantry and now adjutant to the major commanding the Third Battalion of the 71st. Lieut. Saunders started out to describe life in Camp Wadsworth, but seems to have drifted into a description of that feature of the life that nearly every soldier's letter refers to and that is especially timely this week.

Camp Wadsworth, S. C., Nov. 4.—I have just come back from mess, where I must have eaten about a ton of good cheer. I have been riding all afternoon. Must have done 30 miles of good hard riding over this country, through the woods, past the cotton mills, through the cotton fields, which seem to be badly in need of laborers—and cotton at 20 cents a pound and all civilization in need of this commodity. The scenery about here is glorious. We get view after view, first in one direction and then in another. We pass a tumbled down shanty with the always evident dark and pickaninies. Sometimes it is the home of a white farmer. Now, over on the horizon, tall stacks, belching smoke, remind one that the product of the fields is being spun and woven close to the place of its origin.

Southern Farming. And the fields of corn, which would seem to a northern farmer to be woefully going to waste, but are not. The method down here is to strip the leaves off the stalk, tie them into a small bundle and let cure that way. The great 16 row ears of dent corn are then left to ripen. They are then harvested. The stalk is ploughed under, and the crop for one season is a product. Then there are the fields of velvet beans. Fields of corn, with velvet beans climbing the stalks, which act as bean poles, and what a load they carry.

In Movie Land. I saw all of this, and as I've ridden about I cannot fail to remember that this, the Piedmont section, is the section of the country in which Thomas Dixon laid the scenes and wrote the story that became the film "The Birth of a Nation." I believe Griffiths (was it) took the picture in this very section, for one can run across any kind of southern character or type one chooses here.

Last night I had command of the 71st Regiment, actual command, and took them out in formation. And every man in that rank was a non-commissioned officer. In fact that's all we have now as enlisted personnel. It must have made some of them think pretty hard. It wasn't so long ago that I was just one of them. Of course, there are only about 110 men of the regiment left but it is the regiment until every last man goes.

You see it was this way. There is a war correspondent who is a representative of an Argentine newspaper, La Argentina, and he has some very wonderful films and delivers a lecture which he calls "Eleven Nations at War."

He is officially accredited for it was a division order which brought us to the Y. M. C. A. big tent. Every one of the regiments have been ordered per schedule to this lecture. It is surely instructive, considering that he shows the filmed scenes and conditions of the people of eleven of the nations at war, among them the Germans.

About the Y. M. C. A.

By the way, I don't want to bore you, but you ought to know something about the Y. M. C. A., for you know so many of the boys are away from home and are up against the impersonal care and consideration which is the inevitable result of such a grouping of men as the army is, all more or less strangers to each other.

I have found that the life of an enlisted man would be a soul killing thing but for the saving relief of the Y. M. C. A. organization.

When I was an enlisted man, the Y. M. C. A. always seemed to come to my rescue about that time in the course of events when I was disgusted. Mind you, not here, just disgusted. I always felt that one begins getting home sick by first becoming disgusted, then blue, and then home sick. But there was always the "Y," as our men used to call it. If we couldn't find a man who was wanted for some duty detail which cropped up, one always went over to the "Y." There nine times out of ten he could be found, and usually writing home, or reading a magazine or playing checkers or chess or listening to some form of entertainment, seasoned with prayers. Democratic religion I used to call it. No ritual or dogma, just praying, and then the fun.

A Practical Religion. You know how religious I am. About as religious as a bull pup, but even a bull pup gets serious when taken away from its first home and unless it finds things fairly comfortable its gets dumber and that's the finish of B. P.

When a soldier goes into a Y. M. C. A. tent or cantonment, unless he wears blinders he—well, he can't help see a sign like this "Write home," or "Don't forget to write home." If he goes there to write to his best girl, he has no reason to say he forgot to write home. It's shouted out to him from that sign. He cannot say he has no paper, envelopes, ink, pens, or table, or is too far away from the postoffice to get stamps, he can get them all there for nothing, except the stamps. So, if the folks will just inclose stamps he's got no excuse.

And the cheerful smiles of these Y. M. C. A. clerks, or whatever they are called. Their sunny dispositions, however they get them, would turn anybody's blue funk into a joy of golden hope, or the case is one of bad liver and the subject has a bet on it can't be done.

Why He Raves. I suppose you wonder why I rave so about this organization. But they do so much good and as I said, so many of the boys are away from home.

Here's another thing. Takes Care of Soldier's Money. If a soldier who gets his pay and doesn't make an allotment home through the quartermaster, loses it in a crap game or poker game, just because he held on to it and had it to play with, it's his own fault. He could have gone over to the Y. M. C. A., deposited it or bought express money orders and sent them home.

Chasing Away the Glooms. Last summer while at Plattsburg, my side partner, who afterwards went into aviation and made a commission in that branch of the service, and who is flying now, was waiting for me to finish a letter, sat with his pipe in his mouth, elbow on the table, head resting on closed fist, dropped into a sort of meditation. He is a studious looking chap, rather serious cast of features even when he is in motion. I happened to look over at him and noticed the general appearance, but I knew there was nothing troubling him, as he had passed all his exams for the aviation and was happy to know it was only a month of routine when he would be ordered away to a ground school. We were in the Y. M. C. A. building. After a while I noticed a middle aged man talking to Ted. Both were laughing and chatting.

I finished my letter and went over to them. Ted introduced me. Went over a few impersonal remarks. Ted and I went out. On the way to where we were going, he began to laugh and said "Gee! What do you think? That Y. M. C. A. man came up to me while I was sitting there and put his hand on my shoulder and said, 'I wouldn't worry about anything or feel badly. There's always a bright tomorrow.'"

But There Were No Glooms.

Well, of course, both of us laughed about it. Ted was anything but unhappy. He told his comforter, explained he was waiting for me to get through writing, that he had only dropped into a sort of abstract line of thought, that was all. The Y. M. C. A. secretary explained that part of their work was to look out for the discouraged chap, and he thought from the way Ted was hunched up and looked, that he had lost out, and been ordered home, etc.

And just now, all the time I have been writing this, I've been listening to the men, these soldiers of the 27th Division singing over in the "Tent on the Hill." "The big top," the "Y," etc. These are the names for it down here.

2,000 Singing the Marseillaise. There is some sort of choral singing or instruction being conducted over at the "Y." Just now they are singing the Marseillaise. There must be about 1,500 to 2,000 men. It is a big tent, the sort the circus uses.

There they go. Have you ever heard 2,000 men's voices ring out in the first line of the chorus of the Marseillaise?

Unsheath the avenging sword. Form you now battalions. March on. March on. People march on. For Liberty. Or death. They sing our own songs. They

FAST SPEEDING TAXI HITS GIRL

Miss Mary Murray of No. 412 Hasbrouck avenue was run into and her right ankle broken by a Ford taxicab owned by Charles Builey and driven by Vernon Avery on Clinton avenue at the head of Main street about 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

According to those who witnessed the accident the taxicab was traveling at an excessive speed when the accident occurred. It was going toward North Front street, Miss Murray and two young lady friends were crossing Clinton avenue when the taxicab bore down on them. The other young women stepped back to the curb, but Miss Murray evidently became confused and stood still. The taxicab struck her with considerable force and knocked her down.

Then the taxicab continued for about a hundred feet until it crashed into a telegraph pole with sufficient force to turn it completely around on its side. Avery was thrown out but managed to get to the opposite side of the street, where he collapsed.

Miss Murray was carried to the house of Dr. Wright J. Smith, in front of which the accident occurred, and was attended by Dr. E. H. Loughran. Later she and Avery were removed to the Kingston City Hospital, where Miss Murray will remain for some time. Besides a broken ankle she is suffering from lacerations and scalp wounds. Avery suffered from shock but was removed to his home Sunday. The taxicab, which was badly damaged, was removed to the Stuyvesant garage.

Turning Ankle Fatal.

An apparently very slight accident had fatal results for Alex Scott, 9 years old of Newburgh, who died Friday at his home there. Several days before his death he had turned over on his ankle and following that it was observed he favored the ankle a little. A slight swelling developed and he was treated for rheumatism until it was found he had developed blood poisoning.

sing hymns. They laugh, 2,000 of them laugh. It sounds like a wave on the beach, a glad wave. They cheer for something. I, where I am sitting, cannot see or hear what it is that brings the cheer.

Then they finish by singing "The Star Spangled Banner." There will be a late moon, the night is a star spangled one. They have had a clean time, laughter, song and undoubtedly a prayer.

No booze. They will sleep well and deeply. Tomorrow they will be clear-headed.

They will go out, some of them, to dig their allotment of trenches as practice. They must pass my tent again for the road to the trenches runs by it. And most always they are singing the songs they learned at the Y. M. C. A. not to feel self conscious about singing.

The workers of the Y. M. C. A. are as well disciplined as any set of soldiers.

Y. M. C. A. Begins Early. They commence the day with a "Morning Watch," which I believe is an hour of prayer. This happens before the soldiers are up. They are ready for him when he comes around. Anyhow you may be sure that when a soldier's time hangs heavy on his hands (if such a thing is possible nowadays) and he decides to go over to the "Y" it's a safe place for him to go to and be at. And it's the handiest and first place on his road to "I guess I'll go out," or "What'll I do?"

Glad to hear of Fred's good luck. I wish I were going. But if I keep on I will be the more fitted as an officer. The more we learn the safer the men will be, and the more efficient any part we may have to take. I'm also helping our supply officer clear up the affairs of the supply company. This is very instructive also.

I am attending the division school for Liaison officers or officers of communication. We especially become informed on signaling with flags, lamps, panels, buzzers, wireless, ciphers, codes, pigeons, and if we can stand it, observation from captive balloons. We've got to be pretty keen lookers and observers.

In fact we are the human link on the ground, between the eyes of the army, (the aviators) and the mechanical agents, and the battle's action.

If I pass the required tests (which I will have to as I have no pull) I hope to be an officer of Liaison, or, connection.

Wish me luck, please. Oh! By the way.

Whitman inspected the troops. He drove through the camp past each regiment. The staff, myself included, were introduced to him, etc. Then the next day he held a review. That night a reception. Some crush, and an affair of distinguished atmosphere. Saturday, we all (the officers) were at the train when he left.

The bands played Old Lang Syne. The officers cheered, and I guess New York state's executive connection left the National Guard.

Well, I'm tired. I'm away behind in my home work for school.

R. SAUNDERS.

$30,000 DRIVE STARTED SUNDAY

With Big Union Meeting in Denawo Avenue Tabernacle—Captain Haas Tells of Work—This is Week of Weeks.

The $30,000 drive in Ulster county this week was opened Sunday evening at the Delaware Avenue Tabernacle when Captain A. A. Haas of Camp Merritt, Tenny, N. J., told of the work among the boys about to go "Over There." As promised in announcements of the mass meeting no collection was taken or pledges asked, but attention to the campaign was called and the plans to successfully raise the amount needed in Ulster county was outlined by Mayor Canfield, chairman of the general committee, having the work in charge. In Kingston the city has been laid out in districts and teams of ten men will visit each district this week to secure pledges.

The big tabernacle was filled when Frank R. Powley mounted the platform to conduct the song service with Miss Elsa Hildebrandt at the piano. All of the old favorites sung at the Peacock revival services were sung and the huge audience joined heartily in the singing. The song service was closed with the singing of America.

Mayor Canfield then outlined the purpose of the meeting and asked that every head be bowed in silent prayer for the boys in the service which was followed by the Rev. R. C. Weyant, the Rev. C. G. Ellis and the Rev. G. M. Cranston leading in prayer, for the success of our nation.

Captain Haas was then introduced and said he had got his title of "captain" in one of the camps. He is secretary at Camp Merritt, which is one of the embarkation camps, and that the boys at the camp were liable to leave for "Over There" even as he stood on the platform talking. Then he plunged into the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the boys at Camp Merritt, which is the same work being carried on at all of the camps both here and across the water.

The first thing that a soldier boy does when he reaches camp and has a little time to himself is to head for the Y. M. C. A. tent, shack or hut, whatever it might be, and write a letter to the old folks back home telling them of his new address and other things of interest. The Y. M. C. A. furnishes the boys with free writing paper and envelopes, and a cheerful place to write his letters "back home."

Captain Haas told of some personal experiences at Camp Merritt and of how the churches in the vicinity of the camp were co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. in arranging to give the boys a good time while in camp. He told how one church, the Presbyterian, invited 75 of the boys from camp to attend the regular prayer service each week. After prayer service the boys were given a little spread with good things to eat. The Methodist church near the camp worked it a little differently. They invited 35 of the men to attend the Sunday evening service and before the service gave them their supper. The churches also arranged little entertainments for the boys.

Hallowe'en night the Episcopal Church sent over an invitation for 100 boys to come over and enjoy the evening. Later they telephoned they could accommodate 200 when the boys lined up in front of the "Y" building in camp there were 250 and they marched over to the church singing "Over There" and other popular soldier songs.

When they reached the church it was found that seats had been placed for 235 men, but seats for the other fifteen were quickly improvised. The men were treated to cigars, cigarettes and chocolate cake. Just while the festivities were at the height 100 more soldiers walked in. The church people were equal to the occasion, however, and sent out and bought barrels of apples and more tobacco.

Captain Haas told of how the boys were entertained in the Y. M. C. A. building in the camp with concerts. Artists came from long distances to amuse the boys. One man, a Jew, is a magician, and goes from camp to camp keeping the boys amused with his programs of magic.

Protestant, Catholic, Jew or any other religious denomination is made to home at the "Y." The boys are not asked what church they belong to but to come in and make yourself at home. Sunday morning at 6 o'clock a Catholic mass was celebrated by the Catholic chaplain in the "Y" building, and at 8 o'clock a Y. M. C. A. service was held and in the evening a Protestant service in charge of a Methodist clergyman.

Every thing is done to make the boys forget their homesickness and give them something to occupy their minds and a cheerful place to meet the other boys.

In closing Captain Haas made a strong plea that the people of Ulster county make the campaign a success for the sake of the boys who stand in our stead in the service of our country. The morale of the men must be kept up and this is the work the government has assigned to the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Lois Lamp sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and Miss Jacobs sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

Father Lange of the Holy Cross Church was the last speaker and pronounced the benediction at the close of his remarks.

BOYS WILL HELP THE Y. M. C. A. WAR FUND

A number of the boys of St. James's M. E. Church on Sunday pledged themselves to raise $10 each for the Y. M. C. A. war fund. Clarence Schoonmaker, director of Boys' Work in the city of Rochester, addressed the boys at St. James's Sunday and gave an interesting and inspiring talk. The following boys gave the pledge to raise the money: Kenneth Eddy, Tullmann Kearney, Milton Budd, Charles Pitts, Burton Haver, Elsmere Johnson, Carol Kearney, Burdette Clark, Ezra Spencer, Irving Guttridge and Harry Connelly. The three classes of boys taught respectively by Miss Blanche Montanye, Mrs. Charles Burroughs, and Charles Burroughs, also pledged themselves to raise the money to help the war fund.

BOSTONIAN HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Corporation With Factory on Hasbrouck Avenue Employed Boy Under 16 Years, According to Evidence.

This morning Recorder Lang held a hearing in the complaint of the State Labor Department against the Bostonian Waist, Inc., who conduct a shirt waist factory at No. 50 Hasbrouck avenue. The corporation was charged by Inspector Jones with employing Martin Kellar, of 26 Harvart street, who is not 16 years of age. At the hearing this morning Inspector Jones testified, as did the boy. The state examination was conducted by P. J. Hughes. Frank W. Brooks, who represented the Bostonian Waist, Inc., offered no defense. His motion to dismiss was denied, and Recorder Lang held the corporation to await the action of the next grand jury.

JAW FRACTURED IN A RUNAWAY

Joseph Cummings of Port Ewen is confined to the Kingston City Hospital with a fractured jaw sustained Sunday afternoon in a runaway which occurred at Port Ewen. Mr. Cummings was riding in a wagon with James Flynn, of the same village, and when near the station the horse became frightened by a passing train and ran away. Mr. Cummings was hurled from the wagon. Mr. Flynn escaped with a shaking up. Dr. Ross of Port Ewen attended the injured man and conveyed him to the hospital.

KRESGE CO. TO HELP Y. M. C. A. WAR FUND

Fifty per cent of the amount of the sales Tuesday of the local five and ten cent store on Wall street, of the S. S. Kresge Company, will be donated to the Y. M. C. A. war fund. This is a patriotic act upon the part of the Kresge Company that deserves commendation and Kingston folks should show their appreciation by liberally patronizing this store on Tuesday.

Finds Missing Sister.

W. H. Vandeventer of Walton, who for several years has been a trainman on O. & W. trains between New York and Utica, has succeeded in discovering the whereabouts of his sister, Rose, who was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davey of Walton when she was 13 years old. The death of Mrs. Davey occurred a few days ago and it was then the adoption papers were sent to the young woman, Mrs. Raymond Miller, who resides at Canaseraga conveying to her the information that her brother lived in Walton.

Factory Girls Strike.

About seventy-five of the girls employed in the Poughkeepsie factory of the Dutchess Manufacturing Company are on a strike, and the balance of the employees may also strike. It is alleged the girls cannot make as much at their work as they did, owing to new methods introduced at the plant. Another point of contention is the discharge by the company of Miss Kelly, who is looking after the interests of the strikers.

Henderson at Hospital.

Patrick Henderson, the well known local steeplejack was conveyed to the Kingston City Hospital from No. 26 Ann street, on Saturday afternoon in the city ambulance. Mr. Henderson has been ill for some time.

Camp Dix Blue Print.

A blue print of Camp Dix is on exhibition in the show window of the drug store of Benjamin Johnston on the Strand. An arrow points to the barracks occupied by Ulster county boys.

MORE CAMP DIX MEN TRANSFERRED

Thought They Were Going South but Went Cheerfully and Landed Only a Mile Away—Weather Cold but Food is Good.

Camp Dix, N. J., Nov. 9.—Company L is still separating, as today fourteen of us were transferred to the 153rd Depot Brigade, stationed about a mile from Company L barracks. It has been a hard day for us today, leaving our old friends at Company L and the other work we had to do when we got here. We were notified about leaving at 6 a. m. and we had to turn in our bunks and bedding, eat and pack up and be at headquarters at 7:30 a. m. So you can imagine what kind of hustling we had to do.

The boys at Co. L were all sorry to see us leave as they thought we were going south. Here is a list of those transferred:

Patrick Daley.
Thomas Edwards.
Charles Eater.
Charles Freer.
Louis Connors.
Kelly Christian.
Snyder Cragin.
John Costello.
Ralph Cox.
John Cox.
William Connors.
Lawrence Davis.
Hiram Carl.
George Cook.

All the boys seem to be contented here. These are supposed to be the best drilled from each company. There are about 250 of us here.

I was one of the assistant cooks when I left Company L and I did hate to quit it, as my old friends Bill Roe, Lester Wolf and Sergeant Gill agreed like brothers. All the boys will miss me also, as they knew they got a good portion of grub when they came up to me.

The southern boys leave Sunday, as I heard. It came pretty straight. If they do I will let you know. I was over to Company L tonight to get my mail and see the boys. It was sort of a surprise for them to see us as they thought we were bound for the south. They flocked around us and used us for an information bureau, asking all kinds of questions in regard to our new home.

As I am kind of tired after a full day's work I will close for this time.

Our address is: 3rd Prov. Co., Prov. Recruit Battalion, 153rd Depot Brigade, Camp Dix, N. J.

(Delayed in Transmission)

Co. L, 310th Inf., Nov. 3.—Just finishing a hard day's work, I thought I would write a few words about our camp. The boys leave for the south soon. They seem to be glad they are going as they claim they won't have to put their overcoats on before their trousers in the morning. There are about 50 to go south. They are getting fully equipped so as to be ready to depart. It will make about 100 of our men transferred so far.

The Ulster county men must be all good ones as it seems they are taking them for all braves of the army. That was some story as to me being laid up with an injured knee. I was for a day or so but you know it's hard to keep a good man down.

It is awful cold down here. We wake up in the morning and hate to go out. When we get out for reveille in the morning it is dark. We have a half a day in before the sun rises; then it's a little warmer.

Edward Weber of Aheal street is one of our cook's assistants. He is right there with the knife when it comes to cutting meat.

Jack Flemming is a proud boy since he received his chevrons as corporal of a squad in the machine gunners.

Jim Davis of the Central Garage, is the mocking bird now. He is the one who wakes us up and sends us to bed daily, with the notes of his bugle.

We were all vaccinated and inoculated for the third and last time and you can bet I'm not a bit sicker, it takes an awful effect on you for a couple of days; you can't move your arms.

We are getting good grub now since Bill Roe and Happy Wolf and Gill have had charge. Here is a sample of the grub:

Breakfast—Oranges, cereal, buckwheat cakes, with syrup, Hamburg steak, French fried potatoes, bread and coffee.

Dinner—Roast beef, baked potatoes, French stew, boiled beans, rice pudding, bread and coffee.

Supper—Pork and beans, potatoes, roast beef, cake, bread and coffee.

You can't kick on these meals but there are some still kicking. I guess I will close as I am going to hit the hay, in other words, going to bed.

All the boys send their regards.

TOM.

Dr. Cady's Lecture.

In his lecture on "The Wonders of Egypt" at the Elmdorf Street Presbyterian Church tonight, Dr. Cady will not only tell about the remarkable art and architecture of ancient Egypt but will relate some personal experiences in the Land of the Nile. Eighty views will show the pyramids, temples and landscape of the country. Recent discoveries of great interest will be shown by actual photographs thrown upon the screen.

Ice Cream in Newburgh.

The price of ice cream by the quart in Newburgh has advanced to 50 cents a quart.

MENTAL CLINIC NEXT FRIDAY

The monthly mental clinic for Ulster county which is conducted under the supervision of Dr. Maurice C. Ashley, superintendent of the Middletown State Hospital, will be held on Friday at the county building, corner of John and Crown streets. The clinics are being unusually well attended and the state authorities feel well satisfied with the results attained.

DISTRICT BOARD HAS CERTIFIED ONE

The local board for Division No. 2 of Ulster county has been notified by the district board for the Southern Judicial District of New York that Sherman Barley of Kyserske has been certified for service in the National Army. Barley's order number is 234 and his serial number is 571.

NEWS FOR SOLDIERS.

Way to Furnish It is by the Semi-Weekly Freeman.

Ever since Company M was called out this office has sent to the boys a number of free copies of The Freeman, and the same was done in the case of the drafted men sent to Camp Dix. The latter are now so scattered in various divisions of the army that it is too much to ask us to send so many free copies. A home paper is the most acceptable gift to a soldier, and it would be a nice thing for friends of the boys to carry them in this way. Attention is called to the Semi-Weekly Freeman and Journal, which costs only $1.50 a year, and which contains everything of importance printed in The Daily Freeman.

County Court Convened.

The criminal term of the county court opened this afternoon here at the court house. There are a large number of cases to be tried, including the case of Thomas Malone, who is charged with the murder of Joseph Michael at Marlborough on September 27.

Will Raise a Service Flag.

Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., will unfurl a service flag on Tuesday evening, November 13, in honor of its seventeen members now in active service. The flag will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The Hon. Alton B. Parker will deliver an address. The lodge's quarter will sing. All Masons are invited.

Charged With Petty Larceny.

Joseph Reaves of Marlborough was brought to the county jail here Saturday afternoon, charged with petty larceny. It is alleged that he stole

Spinning Over Roads With New Model "Overland 90"

Kingston's Transportation Man Who Sells It Now in Baggage Carrying Service.

By The Freeman's (Once Mysterious) Mr. Fox.

George Schryver, the transportation and garage man who gave to Kingston night and day taxi service and built in Railroad avenue the first big double entrance garage, now places a promptly attentive baggage delivery service at all trains arriving and departing at the West Shore station.

If you wire or phone him before train time you can safely leave it to him to look after your baggage. Or you'll find his man at the station when you leave the train. If one truck is inadequate, others can be quickly run out, occasioning no delay for his garage, salesroom and car storage are opposite the station.

As he six years ago made the auto taxi cab the popular service in Kingston to and from the trains and throughout the city, and answered the calls so promptly, making prices within reach of all, so he may be expected to give the city baggage carrying service that will meet everybody's requirements.

Orders should be placed as early as convenient before time for arrival or departure of trains at his office, The Kingston Taxi Cab Headquarters, No. 17 Railroad avenue. The phone call is 541.

Mr. Schryver's motor sales business in autos, auto trucks and auto cabs comprises both new and second-hand. This is also the station for repairs, to procure all parts, and Kingston's best known service station.

The earliest of popular automobiles, the Overland, is in his hands for Ulster county, and notwithstanding difficulties of delivery generally understood under war conditions your purchase of the Overland will be delivered to you promptly. The latest model, "Overland 90" for 1918 can be delivered this fall. Now, while the weather is good, is the time to try it out. A recent distance trip showed a consumption of one quart of oil in 731 miles last run and less than a gallon of gasoline in twenty mile runs. This "Overland 90" ran as easily as a gondola on a swan pond taking the corners firmly and evenly, with light springs upon the tops, and with not a complaining clunk in climbing grades.—Advertisement

CONFERENCE AT NEW PALTZ WAS SUCCESS

Object to Be Attained is the Better Handling of Problems Confronting the Country.

The Rural Life Conference held in the Normal School at New Paltz recently proved a valuable, interesting, and unusual gathering. This conference came as the culmination of the social survey of the country instituted by the Rev. Henry D. Frost of record, and completed the summer.

The date of this survey formed the basis for the address delivered by Mr. Frost before the conference. In his speech he set forth the conditions he found to exist here in Ulster county, the gradual falling off of population, in the number of churches, in the interest in church work, and in the quality as well as the quantity of rural population. He commended the many indications of increased economic progress, and the fairly general realization on the part of the rural communities of their problems, and the almost universal willingness to participate in the solution of the multiplicity of questions confronting them.

The Bureau of Farmers' Institutes issued the call for the conference, and sent Edward Van Alstyne, director of the bureau, to take charge personally of the work of organizing and carrying out the program. Much of the credit for the success of the conference must be attributed to him. In the opening address of the conference he outlined the condition that has arisen during the last decade, the changes that have come and others that will come as the result of this nation's entrance into the war, the results of which no one can determine. He emphasized the imperative necessity of a united, working, rural citizenry, the growing influence of woman in the home and in the community, the places which our schools and churches should occupy, and the value of the Y. M. C. A.

The subjects of "Community Home-making" and "The Value of Music in Our Daily Lives" were discussed by Mrs. Ida Harrington, director of home economics for the state of Rhode Island. Her talks were interesting features of the program. She emphasized the need of dignifying free labor for the community for the purpose of developing local pride and a village life to be proud of.

Dr. Warren H. Wilson, secretary of the rural church work of the Presbyterian church, as a speaker who impressed the audience with his ability and his knowledge of the subject in hand. The rural schools and churches came in for some severe but deserved criticism. He urged a quicker response to the changes now going on throughout the county. Henry Israel of the International Y. M. C. A. told of the work of the organization he represents in this county, and the work of the Y. M. C. A. on the continent. The interest aroused by Mr. Israel's speech coupled with the work of Mr. Frost resulted in the formulation of a plan to organize a Y. M. C. A. for Ulster county.

The purpose of the conference was more than realized. Jared Van Wagenen of Cobleskill closed the program by summarizing its objects as follows: To awaken people to the needs of the county, to devise some means of handling the problems, to create a sympathy for the many farmers who are victims of circumstances beyond their control, and to instill in the minds of all the demand for constant, constructive co-operation and vigilance.

A pleasant feature of the conference was the presence of the school teachers of the Second Supervisory District, kindly arranged by Superintendent Gillette, and the attendance of the normal students. Representative men and women were present from all parts of the county and the consensus of opinion favored an active campaign to carry out at least some of the suggestions made and use the fund of knowledge acquired in shaping the destiny of the rural life of the county, along constructive, beneficial, and progressive lines.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Nov. 12.—The town board met in this village on Friday last. The principal business was the auditing of bills besides the usual routine work.

Birthday may come and birthday may go but surprise parties will go on forever. The latest is on Frank H. Snider. He had nicely settled himself down to a neighbors for a quiet evening of ease, rest and enjoyment after a most strenuous election day's work when he was called up to come home immediately. He did so like a dutiful citizen but very much annoyed at the sudden interruption of his evening's pleasure. Although aware that he was 36 years old on that day, still he was most decidedly unaware of any machinations which the newly enfranchised women folk might have on his movements. On his arrival home, he found his house filled with village friends, who had taken possession. The surprise was so complete that it took all the evening to straighten himself out. One may as well stop right here. A perfect surprise, a royal good time for all. Tables were arranged for various games. Social talk kept many busy and the refreshments were there in plenty. Appetizers for a beginning.

—BUTTER—

solid comfort for the main stay and the light and airy things to top off with and ice cream over all. At one o'clock the evening closed with pleasant recollections for all.

The Dorothy Perkins and yellow dog story has its counterpart, if not more than its equal in the saying of a youthful resident of the village, whose remarks are always amusing and often humorous. He has been told of the wickedness of telling a lie. He listened dutifully but suddenly made the statement that it was not wicked to tell a lie, clinching it with this: "The last time I was in heaven, God told me it was not wicked to tell a lie." Now can any one beat that? What would your answer be to the statement?

As an aftermath of election day harvesting, it may be of interest to bring together the town officers elected: John H. Saxe, re-elected supervisor; Hiram Van Steenburgh, re-elected town clerk; Robert Stoutenberg, elected town collector; Willis Wolven, elected road superintendent; Malen Hottinger for Hurley, overseer of the poor; Wallace Gray for West Hurley, overseer of the poor; Mr. Hannay of West Hurley and Charles Snyder of Hurley are re-elected justices. Walter Vandemark and Charles Kierstead are elected constables from Hurley and Eugene Ostrander, James DeLong and George Shortel are elected constables for West Hurley.

The soldier vote may have a little influence on the election. There are four such from this village and six from West Hurley.

As is well known the town voted itself "dry." The law will be carried into effect when the existing hotel license in the village hotel expires, which is October next.

As for woman's suffrage, according to the New York Times, the law goes into effect automatically January 1, 1918.

The ladies of the Missionary Society sent a barrel to Kentucky lately, on account of the great freight increase. The barrel was sent by way of Canada. The young women of the "Willing Workers" packed a barrel on Saturday.

The town board met in West Hurley on Thursday. Among other routine work, the board appointed Messrs Thomas Hottinger and John Ostrander inspectors of elections for the Republican party and Ray Smith and Jesse F. Durfee, inspectors for the Democratic party.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will meet at the hall on Thursday afternoon, November 15, to work for the Red Cross Society.

Elison Short of Kingston spent Sunday with his brother, S. L. Short. Mrs. Anna Eltinge and daughter, Maiza, have gone to New Jersey where they will spend the winter.

The Epworth League will hold a business meeting on Wednesday evening. All officers and members are required to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Shultz, also Mrs. Maude Stratton called on Mr. and Mrs. Emory Happy Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard of Syracuse, N. Y., who have been visiting the latter's parents here, have gone to North Carolina.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Nov. 12.—Both grown ups and children are rehearsing for the two entertainments which are to be given each evening of the church fair to be held in Elmore Hall on Wednesday and Thursday evening, November 21 and 22. It is now planned to have the adults the first night and the children the second night. Both will be worth seeing and we hope everyone will try to attend both evenings. Further particulars will be published later.

Mr. and Mrs. Collin McKenzie have closed their summer home and gone away for the winter. The writer has not learned whether they intend to remain in New York city or go south the same as last year.

S. E. Mott received a carload of chestnut coal last week and is busy delivering the same with his Ford truck.

Merritt Soper of Union Center is engaged each day in raking the leaves and other obstructions from the sides of the state road and also repairing the worn out places wherever necessary. There is a great deal of travel through the village and this work is much needed.

Mrs. Charles Martin, who has been ill for such a long period, is still confined to her home, and on Thursday Dr. Kimble of Kingston was called to examine her case. Her many friends earnestly hope that something may be done to secure permanent relief.

Alvah Drake is receiving congratulations upon his election as road commissioner for the town.

Since the returns of the recent election a number of women have been heard to say: "Well, I did not fight for the right of suffrage but I'm going to vote just the same in order to help drive the saloon out of business. This is the attitude that every woman who has the right to vote should take and by so doing aid in crushing the most ruthless enemy of mankind."

Injured by Flying Hen.

Dr. J. William Flak was cut about the face and hands while driving his car from Central Valley to Newburgh Friday when a hen flew against the windshield of the car, breaking the glass and sending the flying pieces of the car's face and hands of the veterinarian.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It's easy to tell the teller how best to carry his pack. And no one can rate a burden's weight till he feels the load on his back.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Lay a thick slice of ripe tomato on a lettuce leaf, then on the tomato a ring of green pepper one-fourth inch high. Fill with chopped mustard pickles, ripe olives and pearl onions; garnish with sliced pickled walnuts and serve any desired dressing.

Bran Bread Sticks.

To one cupful of scalded milk add three tablespoonfuls of shortening, half a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of molasses; stir till the shortening is melted and the liquid lukewarm, then add a cake of compressed yeast, softened in a fourth of a cupful of water, and one cupful and a half of bran with as much bread flour as can be conveniently mixed in with a spoon. The dough should not be mixed stiff enough to knead. Mix and cut and turn with a spoon or knife, cover, and let it rise to become light. When it is double its bulk, butter the fingers and pull off bits of the dough, roll on a board and put into bread stick pans. When very light bake 15 minutes. Brush with the white of an egg and return to the oven to glaze.

Rhubarb Baked With Raisins.—Peel the rhubarb unless very tender and cut in half-inch slices. For a pound of raisins use a half cupful of raisins and a cupful of sugar. Cover the raisins with boiling water and let cook until the water is evaporated to three spoonfuls. Sprinkle with rhubarb, raisins and sugar in a baking dish in layers and cook in the oven or on top of the range until tender but not broken.

Steamed Pudding Without Eggs.—Mix together two cupfuls of soft crumbs, one cupful of stoned raisins, half a cupful of molasses, one cupful of milk, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of soda and half a teaspoonful each of clove and cinnamon. Two tablespoonfuls of cocoa may be added for a change if desired. Turn into a buttered mold and steam two hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Chicken Salad.—Allow equal parts of cold cooked chicken, cut in small bits, celery cut in small slices with a little chopped cabbage, blend with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves.

Typical Pipes of the Nations.

The clay pipes used by the natives of various countries and nationalities are quite numerous and have their own individual fashion almost characteristic of each country. The French clay pipe is gay in color and for a few cents one can buy one decorated with the carving of animals' heads, and other adornments. The Hungarian clay pipe has a bowl of clay, and a long stem of either wood or bamboo. This pipe is usually large, with a big bowl, and the average cost is ten cents.

Lost in One's Own Room.

Most of us have been lost at some time or other in our own bedroom. There is no more panicky feeling than to get up half awake and find yourself stumbling over chairs and tables, than to realize that you are lost and start off again only to meet new chairs and angles. Nervous or sick persons are subject to hysteria in such a case. The psychologist has found that a moment's calm consideration will set the lost one straight, but says that it is best in all such cases to call out and secure aid rather than to get another bump.

He is Always Busy.

If Cupid were the small boy that he is represented to be, the authorities who prevent children from being overworked would have to take a hand.

EYE STRAIN

This is the invariable result of neglected defects of sight. In the involuntary effort to obtain distinct vision a severe strain is caused to the muscles of the eye. Headache of a peculiarly painful kind results which can only be relieved by resting the eyes. The only real cure for such troubles is often found to be correct glasses. We adapt glasses which accurately compensate for all defects and which thus remove all strain. Have your eyes carefully tested.

COURT DISMISSES
GEIGER CASE

Judge Rudd has dismissed with costs the action brought by Augustus Geiger against Dwight Divine, tried before him and a jury at the March term of the supreme court held here. The case attracted much attention because of the importance of the questions involved, the character of the witnesses called, and the length of time consumed in the trial, which began on the 13th of March, closed on the 22nd and then was submitted to Judge Rudd for decision.

It appeared by the evidence that Joseph H. Tutill, a well known and wealthy resident of Ellenville, in October, 1853, bought from Richard C. Van Wyck the Cape Pond region. He built a dam across the Good Beer Kill which created the Cape Pond, and constructed a saw mill where he turned into lumber the large pine and hemlock forest of the region. In February, 1868, he sold the pond to the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company, which used it as a feeder for the canal. As the canal fell into disuse the dam became leaky and at the time of the Johnstown flood in 1889, the people of Ellenville became apprehensive that it would give way, and subject that village to the experience at Johnstown, whereupon the canal company made an opening in it, which drained the pond, and let the Good Beer Kill flow through it remained in this condition until 1899, when it became the property of Dwight Divine, the large cutlery manufacturer of Ellenville. He built a modern dam carrying flash-boards which was water tight, and used the water in the creation of electric energy for his cutlery manufactory.

While the opening existed the plaintiff Geiger bought at mortgage foreclosure the lands now owned by him on the Good Beer Kill, a little over two miles west of the dam. In 1915 he brought this action against Divine, to recover $2,000 damages, and for an injunction restraining Divine from causing the water to be impounded so as to overflow his property. Divine defended upon the ground that for over fifty years the Delaware & Hudson and Tutill, his predecessors in title, had the right to dam the waters to the extent to which he dammed them, and he had precisely the same rights that they enjoyed in the premises. The case therefore presented a number of interesting questions, among them whether the dam maintained by Divine caused the waters of the stream to back up over the lands of Geiger further than did the dam maintained by Tutill and the Delaware & Hudson; whether the opening in the dam made by the Delaware & Hudson was a legal abandonment of the right to maintain a dam across the waters of the stream which would set them back so as to flood Geiger's lands; whether Geiger could acquire any rights superior to those of Divine by a user for a period less than twenty years adversely, and whether the occupation and cultivation of the land by Geiger during the period of the opening created such user.

All these questions were submitted to Judge Rudd at his chambers in Albany in September by Amos Van Ethen for Geiger, and by Judge Clearwater for Divine. Judge Rudd in a lengthy opinion completely sustained the contention of Divine.

A Friend in Need.

One day, at an Irish seaport, a terrible fight was taken place on the pier between a Newfoundland dog and a mastiff, when suddenly both fell into the sea below. The Newfoundland, of course, did not mind this mishap and at once swam to the shore without any difficulty. As soon as he landed, he looked around and saw the mastiff, who could not swim, being quickly carried out to sea. The noble dog, instead of rejoicing over his enemy's misfortune, plunged into the water, took the drowning creature by the collar, and keeping his head above water, towed him safely to shore. After this the dogs were known to be the best of friends and never to quarrel again. —Our Dumb Animals.

KINGSTON, N. Y., NOV. 12, 1917.

Now that woman suffrage is an accomplished institution in this State, it is the duty of all of us, especially the women, to use all our strength and influence to prevent it from plunging us into disaster. It must be admitted that the start off is rather discouraging. Some of the more prominent suffrage leaders are urging the establishment of a distinctive women's party, which would be about as bad a thing as can be imagined. It would mean a long-continued sex war and the degradation of politics through the inevitable policy of politicians in sacrificing principle for the sake of capturing an organized body of voters. Furthermore, the principal suffrage leaders in New York City are enemies of our country, although they are not aware of the fact. At a suffrage mass meeting in New York Sunday night the women present were stampeded for socialism and propaganda in favor of "the free women of the world stopping the war by forcing the laying down of arms." One of the speakers was wildly applauded for stating that "the noise of socialism will yet make President Wilson quake in his presidential chair in the White House," and that "the spirit of rebellion has been awakened in the women of America, and who knows where rebellion will lead America?" The only one of the suffrage leaders in Ulster County with whom we have been privileged to talk at length pleaded with us to have the Freeman take a stand against military training or even physical culture in the schools. Perhaps this sentiment is more widespread than we imagine. If so, the situation is serious. Ulster County is not to blame for this situation, having voted against suffrage by two to one, but that does not relieve us of the duty of doing all we can to overcome the effect of traitors who are poisoning the minds of our women by appealing to their national sentiment in favor of peace. We cannot "force the laying down of arms" without making our country Germany's vassal. We cannot believe that after the first flurry of excitement disappears the women of New York will vote differently than men.

Evidence uncovered by the secret service indicates that about $100,000,000 of food is secretly stored in New York city, besides vast quantities of metals and other commodities. In some cases this hoarding has been done by "profiteers" who are scheming to grow rich out of the necessities of their fellow men, and some of it has been done by German sympathizers desirous of embarrassing our nation. Dispatches say that the Government will seize these stores, but we hear nothing about punishment for the hoarders. If the law is powerless to reach these rascals it ought to have "teeth put in it." Nor should punishment be confined to the big offenders alone. All over the country are a lot of little fellows who are holding on to food in expectation of higher prices. They stand to make only a few hundred dollars or less, but the principle is the same. When the war is over and we come to add up the terrible cost, this will be an uncomfortable country to live in for individuals who are known to have made money out of the war.

The Food Administration has requested the Elgin Butter Board to suspend operations during the war and has received assurances of compliance. According to the announcement of the government's Official Bulletin, "for many years the quotations established for creamery butter and butter fat by the Elgin board were the basis on which creameries generally sold their butter and purchased their butter fat," and it is still the practice of this board "to meet every Saturday for the purpose of transacting a few sales which would establish a quotation for the following week, not based on any actual commercial conditions governing butter or butter fat." The Food Administration "thinks it advisable that butter prices be more dependent upon actual market conditions and demands." One would naturally expect the Food Administration also to regard it as advisable to secure the removal of the tax on oleomargarine in its various forms, a tax for which the "butter trust," of which the Elgin board has been the recognized head, was through its wide influence responsible. This tax on imitation butter—a pure and highly nutritious food, according to all the experts—is not only unjust in itself but forces the people to pay a much higher price than needful for the product. A tax on one legitimate industry for the benefit of another is not justifiable during peace, let alone during war when it is desirable to employ every possible method of cheapening food.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE ON FAIR ST.

The Elite Millinery Parlors in the Cordts building, at No. 272 Fair street were gutted by fire, smoke and water about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, resulting in a total loss of the millinery stock and about $500 damage to the building.

The fire had gained considerable headway before its discovery and the inflammable character of the stock caused it to burn fiercely. James Douglas, an employee of the B. Loughran Company, who was sweeping out the Loughran salesrooms, first noticed the smoke, which was pouring out of the rear of the building. He telephoned to Edward B. Loughran at his home on Main street and Mr. Loughran hastily finished dressing and ran to the corner of Main and Fair streets, where he turned in an alarm from Box No. 86. About the same time a soldier passing on Fair street noticed smoke coming over the transom and notified Wiltwyck Hose Company. The fire burned so rapidly that by the time the soldier had crossed the street the flames had backed their way over the transom and burned the awning.

For a few minutes the flames burned fiercely. The heat was intense and one of the plate glass windows was blown out. The flames also broke the windows in the rear of the millinery establishment, and for a few minutes a huge mass of flame poured out of the front and rear of the building.

The fire started in the rear of the shop either in the workroom or in the part occupied until last week by Mrs. Elizabeth Wallis as a carding and mending parlor. Several electrical machines were in these rooms, and it is thought that defective wiring was the cause of a spark which communicated to the highly combustible material nearby. Two streams were put on the building, by Wiltwyck Hose and firemen from the Central Station, and a considerable quantity of water was necessary to be used before the flames were extinguished. All the stock on the first floor except fancy trimmings which were kept in snow cases, was totally destroyed by the flames, and the remaining stock was damaged by smoke. A large stock of hats and trimmings which was stored in the basement was ruined by water. Several large shipments recently had been received and the stock in the basement was unusually large.

The insurance office of Postmaster William C. DeWitt adjoints the millinery establishment but is separated from it by a fire wall. Mr. DeWitt's office as well as the offices of the other tenants of the building, was badly smoked, and tenants on the second floor who arrived while the fire was still burning, removed their papers to Isaman's cigar store across the street.

The building is owned by the John C. Cordts Estate and is insured for $8,000 with William C. DeWitt and John C. Cordts as trustees. The Elite Millinery parlors are conducted by M. S. Jennie Steen. The stock, which was owned by Nathan B. Sutton of Prince street, who is foreman for the James S. Fuller Shirt Company, and by Chester B. Winchell was insured with Mr. DeWitt for $2,100. The fixtures were insured with Mr. DeWitt for $400.

Mrs. Steen usually spends Sunday at Stone Ridge going to High Falls on the 10:25 o'clock Ontario & Western train. She is said to have been in the millinery shop about 9:45 o'clock and not to have seen any indication of fire at that time.

GOOD SYSTEM IS DESIRABLE

Few Farmers Make Plans to Dispose of Unprofitable Fowls—Cull Out Undesirables.

Very few farmers practice a systematic plan of disposing of their fowls after they have ceased to be productive, although it is well known that fowls of the heavier breeds, such as the Plymouth Rocks, cease to produce a profitable number of eggs at the end of their second laying year. This holds true of the lighter breeds, such as the Leghorns, at the end of their third laying year. Consequently, if efforts were made to dispose of all females when their best laying days were over, a large quantity of poultry meat would be placed on the market. All poorly developed chickens should likewise be culled out and used as meat. This way of disposing of unprofitable fowls would allow the farmer to feed his grain to younger and more productive fowls.

FAIRS ARE GOOD EDUCATORS

Fruit Grower Learns How to Produce Fine Specimens and to Improve His Own Methods.

At a fair are exhibited the best products that had been grown in a state or county. Fruit growers can easily learn from the exhibitors how to produce such fine specimens of fruit and he also sees the best and learns the circumstances under which it has been produced. One cannot afford to let such opportunities as the fair pass unheeded. The fruit grower can inspect the work of others and compare with his own, and if it is better than he has been able to accomplish he learns how to improve his methods.

DEMAND FOR SELECTED EGGS

When People Are Convinced That Product Is Choice They Will Advertise the Fact.

It should be remembered that it will take time to work up a demand for selected eggs, but when people are once convinced that the eggs can be depended on, they will not only call for such eggs, but will tell their friends about them.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE BY MARY GRAHAM BOWEN

EARLY AUTUMN PARTY.

"The first color of the autumn had appeared on a few of the trees near fairyland and the fairies were so pleased," said Daddy.

"I think," said the Fairy Queen, "it will be cool enough for a bonfire picnic tonight. The nights have been almost chilly lately, and a bonfire would feel pretty fine I believe."

"It would," shouted the fairies. "Are we really to have a bonfire party tonight?"

"Yes," said the Fairy Queen, "but one thing you must all do. You must come in costumes which you are to make yourselves."

"The fairies love to dress up in fancy dress costumes, and they can do so much with their clever little fingers and their magic wands that they had thought up costumes almost before the Fairy Queen had finished speaking."

"Tonight at eight," she said. All the fairies went off in different directions. Of course there were groups that went together, as they were going to dress alike.

"Eight o'clock soon came and all the fairies were ready. A trumpet sounded through the woods, and then the voice of Mr. Giant was heard saying, "Come all the fairies to the bonfire party. Come brownies, come elves, come gnomes, come bogies, come goblins, and come Witty Witch!"

"At that all the creatures came flying and running and rushing to the bonfire party. The invitations had been given to Mr. Wind who delivered them during the late afternoon."

"The earth people had said that the wind was blowing up, but he was simply in a great hurry to get all the invitations around."

"He did not come to the party. He had been invited, but he said he was very sleepy and needed a rest. So the Fairy Queen had thanked him for his help and he had gone off to bed."

"It was a quiet evening therefore, and the bonfire was blazing. In the center on four sticks crossed was an enormous black kettle.

"It was filled with good hot soup, and there was corn roasting down by the side of the fire. The sticks crackled as if they too were enjoying the fun, and the Fairy Queen was all smiles."

"She wore a dress of soft green moss with fluffy collars and cuffs of the first red shade of the autumn trees. Her hat was made out of brown oak leaves, with a crown of red vine around it. Her wand was of brown, yellow and red, all blending most beautifully together."

"The fairies looked like the different trees of the early autumn, just as the trees are beginning to turn in color. Some wore frocks of leaves from the elm trees, some from the maple trees, while others copied the different trees and shrubs around them."

"Old Mr. Giant was dressed in a costume of pine needles. I am the same all the time," he said, "and I can wear this costume often."

"They all laughed for they knew how hard it was for Mr. Giant to get new costumes all the time, and true enough he looked like the pine trees of the autumn—or the pine trees of the summer, winter and spring!"

"Witty Witch was dressed like a purple aster for she said it was truly an autumn flower. Her hat was a tall purple one and pointed at the top, just as all her hats were. She had a dress of purple and trimmings of gold."

"The elves, gnomes, bogies, and goblins were all dressed like autumn flowers and the bonfire shed its light over them all, making everything look very wonderful."

"They told stories, they sang, and they ate of the roasted corn and the hot soup. And later on, when Mr. Moon had come up to see what was going on, they danced. And how like fairyland they all did look with their gorgeous costumes of the early autumn colors, and with the light of the moon and the bonfire upon them."

"For it almost seemed as though the trees and the flowers were dancing and showing how gloriously they did feel!"

Laugh When You Can.

Laugh when you can is good advice. Unless laughter is unkind or irreverent, you can hardly have too much of it. Half our ills of mind and body are routed by a hearty laugh. Many of our troubles would vanish like the conventional ghost if we could learn to laugh them away. Laughter is medicine to the sick, a tonic to the well, sunshine for everyone. Laugh when you can—Girls' Companion.

Iodine Worth Having.

Always keep a small bottle of iodine in the emergency closet. Paint it into cuts or bruises; it is an excellent antiseptic and hastens healing. Also good for insect bites. For enlarged joints paint every night; relieves the inflammation in three or four nights.

HAS HINT OF THE CHINESE

SIMPLE CASE FOR JEWELRY

Chamois-Lined Pockets Provide Places for Watch, Bracelets, Chains, Earrings and Other Articles.

Every one has some bits of choice jewelry which if not exactly valuable in themselves are valuable for association's sake and, therefore, worthy of being well-cared for. Leather and metal jewel cases are mighty handy articles, but a luxury unless one has enough jewels to warrant them. But there is a delightfully simple and practical way of carrying one's jewels when they do not repose in their several little boxes of one's bureau drawer or in the catch-all tray on the top.

This is a chamois case—that is, it is lined with chamois and may be covered with what you will. It is built on the lines of a utility case with pockets for watch bracelets, chains, earrings, etc., and through the center a piece of flannel on which to pin the brooches, barpins and small "beauty" pins. The edges of the pockets should be bound with silk braid or ribbon before the case is finished. The outer silk—or it might be leather—can be turned over onto the inner chamois for a finish of the edge. Two long ribbons are caught at the center on the outside, so that they may confine the case, no matter how it may be folded.

Besides being of value in keeping the bits of jewelry in good condition, it will be found an excellent way of getting at a certain piece without trouble. The rule for order holds for jewels as well as other more cosmic things.

NOVEL TREATMENT OF HEMS

One of the Little Touches That Is Enough to Distinguish Frocks From Others of Its Kind.

It may be a different sort of sleeve, a new cuff, an odd collar, or a mere quirk at the neckline, but it's sufficient to distinguish the whole frock from all other frocks. Here it's a new idea for finishing a hem.

The zouave or puffed hem is particularly graceful, incidentally in good style at the present moment. But there are several variations of the zouave to distinguish it from last year's. One of them is the use of panels to break the monotony of a continued puff. The panels may be back and front or simply at each side; and loose ones are tremendously effective with the trousers skirt.

Then there is another way of treating the puff skirt, and that is to tack the puff at intervals of perhaps an eighth of a yard. Each "tack" is concealed by a bright bead or two, and the general effect is really striking. One particularly stunning model was "done" in tulle velvet with huge cut jet beads for trimming. Another, an evening frock, is of white satin, puffed and tucked with an iridescent pendant.

SIMPLE FROCKS FOR KIDDIES

Clever Modifications of One-Piece Dresses Developed For Women Used for Young Girls.

Unquestionably simplicity is the keynote of the season's garments for children. Clever little modifications of one-piece dresses developed for women are shown, and they are taking well.

Middy frocks, regulation sailor effects, Russian and Norfolk lines are all favorably considered in the development of dresses for members of the younger generation and for girls of ten and twelve very smart little two-piece suits are shown.

Wool or chenille embroidery is used on many of the serge dresses as a trimming touch.

The very young girl will select a pink or pale blue point d'esprit party dress this winter if she is permitted to use her own will in the matter, for designers are offering some exceedingly dainty little frocks made of this sheer fabric, with taffeta as the foundation. In party dresses high waisted effects prevail, with little puff sleeves.

Labor and the Matinee.

"Any man who goes to matinees lays himself open to the suspicion of not being a hard worker." "Nonsense," replied Mr. Tumble. "The hardest work I ever did in my life was escorting my wife to an Eden matinee."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Just a Little Heart to Heart Talk from

VAN WAGENEN'S

Kingston's Foremost Store.

How We May Help Our Country— Our Fellow Countrymen and Ourselves

THESE are days for our patriotism and our liberality to cover the widest possible scope. They are days to make human hearts cry when we hear of the sufferings of so many people overseas; days that stir up our patriotism to the highest pitch for our brave boys in French trenches and in the lonesome training camps here.

We are all patriotic—liberal—loyal. We all want to help. And there are many honest hearts who question their own right to wear new clothes, new furs, new shoes or other articles, when there is so much suffering going on in the world, and many really do deny themselves of things they ought to have, and in so doing they are indirectly curbing the power of the nation just so much to make the winning fight.

The Question Is One That Is Perplexing Many

Many of our good customers have questioned as to whether they were doing right in purchasing clothes as heretofore and we have always tried to reply impartially, giving both sides. Usually they see the answer as we do and thank us. Others may be thinking of the same thing but perhaps have not yet spoken it.

To any such, the opinion of a store which for 46 years has tried to serve the public faithfully, may prove helpful.

So we believe in averting trouble later by a clearer, broader understanding now—toward which end we make this statement for the benefit of our patrons.

Our Patriotism Yields Place to None

For in this store, from the humblest employee to the members of the firm, there is a deep desire to serve this country best in this time of need. Some are in actual service in the training camps others have subscribed to the Liberty Loans, to the Red Cross and other patriotic organizations. Parts of our own advertising and our show windows have been given over to government uses.

This store will not countenance "profiteering." All that we have, such as we are, we are for UNCLE SAM FIRST, last and all the time. Other stores like ourselves, will do the same, and some perhaps will do even better if they can.

Think a Minute

United States is a producing nation. When demand stops, production stops—when production stops, profits stop. Profits are new money—and new money is what the government needs. So a fair profit whether as the result of daily labor or of invested capital must be made if the country is to remain prosperous.

You are Patriotic When You Buy Judiciously

Therefore, you are patriotic when you make your normal purchases. Buy what you need for your own comfort and your family's comfort. Do not be extravagant, but do not be unduly economical.

Wisely make provisions to answer the patriotic appeals for funds, as they come to you, not forgetting this week's Y.M.C.A. Campaign—to help our Boys "overthere."

You Can Help—Keep Business Going!

Don't Stint! Buy With Judgment!

What Would Happen If You Stopped Buying

If everyone should stop buying—or NEEDLESSLY CURTAILED—stores would have to lay off salespeople; workrooms, cashiers and office forces would be reduced. With the falling off in demand, orders to the factories would stop, mills and manufacturing plants would shut down. The wheels of industry would turn no more. Freight and express shipments would dwindle and railroad men would lose their jobs. The problem of caring for these millions of idle men and women would be insurmountable—for war orders, as large and diversified as they are, could not keep busy the numbers who would be left jobless if the normal demand for necessities were curtailed, either suddenly or by slow degrees.

So let us not become hysterical or needlessly worried—but let us soberly, honestly and patriotically seek a correct solution.

The Government is Interested in These Three Things

Now that the second Liberty Loan has been so finely cared for the Government is interested in these three big things.

The first is the conservation of food and the elimination of waste. The slogan is "Eat all you need but do not waste anything."

Then comes the getting of our brave boys in khaki trained and on the firing line, and keeping them supplied with food and equipment.

But the third, and perhaps the chiefest concern of the Government is to keep the COUNTRY PROSPEROUS that the money, without which no war can succeed, shall be forthcoming, as it is needed, thru Liberty Loans and the payment of federal taxes.

If it ever becomes necessary—and we pray that it will not—to go to further limits—to go without food and clothing, to give up everything at UNCLE SAM'S call, we will counsel it and we will do it ourselves.

Till that time comes, let us live as normally as we can, not denying ourselves necessary relaxation, recreation and material comforts as we go along.

PARISH PAPER FOR ST. JOHN'S

At a recent meeting of the Parish Aid Society of St. John's Church, it was voted that the parish should publish a monthly paper, containing parish and local news of interest to all its members, and especially of interest to its thirty-seven men now serving their country in army and navy. Through the generosity of one of its parishioners the outside of the paper will be a picture of the church on Wall street, showing the service flag. Inside will appear the names of the following men and the exhortations and inspiring prayer read for these men at both morning and evening services of this church:

"Almighty God, who hast given Thine only Son to be unto us both a sacrifice for sin and also an example of godly life, we beseech Thee to bless these men of this parish:

Keep them from craven fears and empty boasts and forgetfulness of Thee. Be to them a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. Protect them from perils to the body and from evil thoughts that assault and hurt the soul; so that, following Thy Son, they may come to the measure of the stature of His fullness, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen."

that will be of general interest to all. Copies of the paper will be sent to each man of the parish in the service, with a request that if he has any special need or wish, he should make the same known to the people of his home parish.

At this immediate time, the rector, the Rev. J. L. Blair Larned, asks that all persons knowing the official address of any of the men whose names appear in the above list, or of any other St. John's men whose names may not so appear, notify him of such addresses both that they may be published and that copies of the paper may be sent to them. This information should be given Mr. Larned at once.

YOST PLAYERS DELIGHT IN SOAKING BILL

COACH YOST CHANGES NAME OF TACKLING DUMMY.

The tackling dummy on the University of Michigan football practice field has been rechristened and is now a male instead of a female personage.

Coach Yost, grinning broadly, is ready to admit that there is an ocean of effectiveness "in a name."

Until this season the dummy has been known as "Gertrude." On numerous occasions Yost, Trainer Tuttle and other chiefs of the training squad have informed ambitious young football candidates that they never would get to the front unless they showed considerably less consideration for "Gertrude's" feelings.

This season, with many gridiron stars absent from college and many green men to teach, Yost faced a problem.

But he solved it. He had the tackling dummy rechristened.

Its new name is "Kaiser Bill." And that's the reason why Yost is still grinning.

Information has been received in London by the "News of the World" that Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, who has done splendid work with the French aviation corps, denies the report that he is being sent to America.

It has been rumored many times that Carpentier was going to the States with Jean Navarre, another aviator, to give the American flying men the benefit of their great experiences in the air and for Georges to engage in some exhibition bouts for the benefit of the French Red Cross society.

CRACK ATHLETES IN FRANCE

Ball Players, Football Stars, Boxers, Tennis Players and Others on Firing Line.

By the time January 1 rolls around and the new year is born many of the leading stars in all branches of sports will be with Uncle Sammel's armies somewhere in France. Ball players, boxers, tennis and golf players, football stars and the leading lights of track and field will all be represented on the firing line.

And with so many stars of the sport world abroad the battle will take new interest in them, for instead of battling on track and field, the diamond, the tennis court or the golf links, the stalwart sons of the U. S. A. will be battling on foreign fields in the great game of the age—the game of war.

Saw Little Cows.

It was Anita's first trip to the country. She was particularly interested in the "mother and baby cows." On her return to the city she was telling one of her playmates all about the farm "And," said she, "I saw lots of cows and the cutest little cowlets."

COBB PULLS "BONER"

One of the Sox, listening to Faber's alibi for his famous steal of third base, recalled an instance at Boston last year when Ty Cobb swiped third base with Crawford already on said sack.

Cobb made a magnificent slide, started to brush off the dirt and suddenly noted Crawford. "Hey! Get away from here!" yelled Ty Cobb. "You haven't any business here!"

On another occasion Veatch of the Tigers got in some such a situation. At the end of the rundown he explained it by saying there were too many men on the bases, anyway, and there seemed no place where he could go.

They have been on Cutshaw for a year in spite of good work.

Bedroom Finery

Every Christmas is greeted with dainty new boudoir caps and jackets, sometimes designed for wear only in the bedroom and sometimes meeting the requirements of the breakfast table. Here is a pretty jacket made of wide pink ribbon and lace which may be slipped on over the nightdress or petticoat for bedroom wear. The cap is merely a band of wide ribbon with frill of lace at each edge headed by a fancy braid.

CORRECT WAY TO MILK COWS

Scrape Droppings Into Gutter and Work Teats and Udders Clean—Keep Hands Smooth.

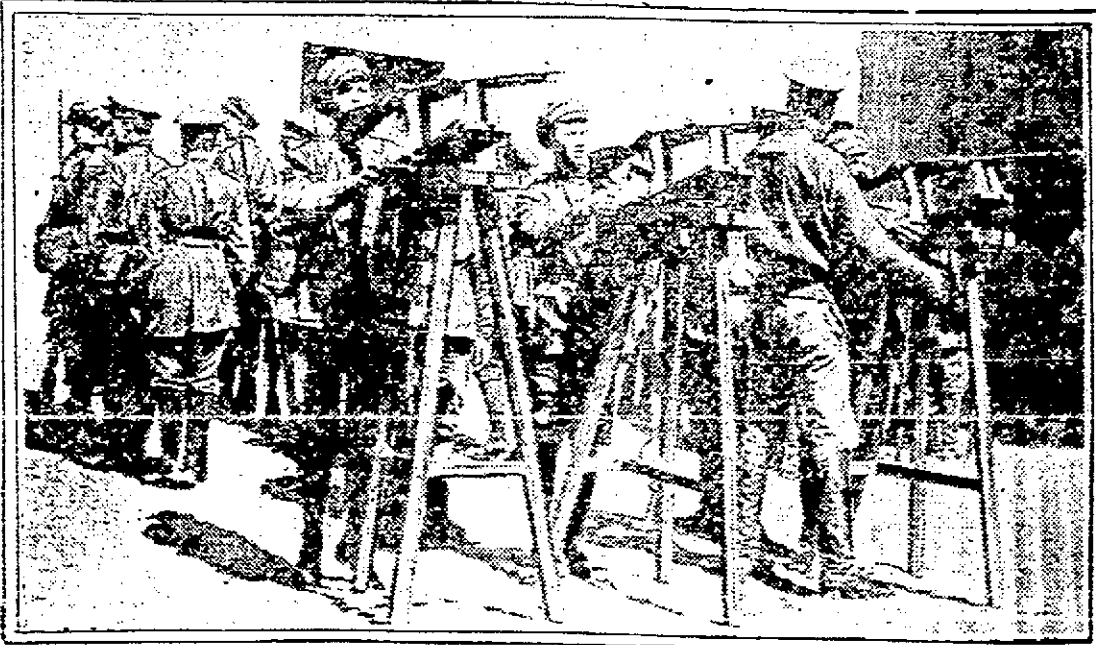

Before commencing to milk the droppings of the cows should be scraped into the gutter and the teats and udders worked clean and wiped dry. Always milk with clean hands, and if your hands are hard and rough keep a cup of goose grease or hard and sweet oil at the stable, and once a day, or before milking, rub a little on the inside of your hands; just enough to make them feel smooth. Some of the grease should be rubbed on the teats if they are rough or cut with briars. An expert will milk a cow giving two gallons of milk in five minutes. A steady, even motion, filling the teat with milk at every pressure of the hands, is the most rapid way of milking and the most agreeable to the cow.

ENTERTAINED BY PARENT-TEACHERS

On Friday evening last, some 800 persons greatly enjoyed the delightful entertainment given by the Federated Council of Parent-Teacher Associations of this city. Although no admission was charged, a generous sum of money was realized for the treasury of the association through the money raised from the advertisements in the printed program.

The evening's entertainment consisted of the following numbers: Piano solo, selected, admirably played by Charles Scutt; vocal solos, "Because," by D'Hardelot and "Forgotten," by Cowles, delightfully sung by Mrs. E. S. Morris, accompanied by Miss Esther Mollott; report of Niagara Falls State Convention of Parent Teacher Associations, given by Mrs. E. E. Matthews, the Kingston delegate. Mrs. Matthews' report was full of interest and inspiration to all and particularly to those who are members of the local association.

"Drifting," by Frimel, piano selection, was given an artistic rendition by Miss Gertrude A. Rafferty, and was followed by a violin solo, "Simple Avenue," by Thome, admirably presented by Miss Kathryn Van Buren, with Miss Helen Turner at the piano. A vocal solo, "A Wondrous Rose," by Burman, was sung by Miss Helen Atkins in a manner that delighted the entire audience. She was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Rafferty. The program closed with lantern slides of Niagara Falls and vicinity.

The association wishes to publicly acknowledge their gratitude and appreciation of services to all who assisted in making the evening such a success, artistically, socially and financially, and this expression will especially include the merchants who advertised in the program, and V. Burgevin's Sons for the stage decorations. The attendance of the principals and teachers of the public schools was also appreciated, as was the delightful and wonderful trip that all enjoyed with Mrs. E. E. Matthews.

The officers of the Federated Council of Parent Teacher Associations of this city are: President, Mrs. P. J. Gallagher; first vice president, Mrs. E. E. Matthews; second vice president, Mrs. Frank Mcagher; secretary, Mrs. W. R. Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Huhne. Presidents of the Parent Teacher Associations: School No. 1, Mrs. James Barnett; School No. 2, Mrs. Frank Thompson; School No. 4, Mrs. W. R. Anderson; School No. 5, Mrs. P. J. Gallagher; School No. 6, Mrs. T. F. Hayes; School No. 7, Mrs. James Keefe; School No. 8, Mrs. E. E. Matthews.

Duty of Public In Wartime

D. DR. SAMUEL C. DIXON
Commissioner of Health of Pennsylvania

It would seem as though the general public ought to be fully informed on most of the horrors of war, judging by the amount that is printed on this subject. Nevertheless, there is apparently one phase that is not generally appreciated. I refer to the danger from communicable diseases acquired during the hardships of a soldier's life, especially if he happens to be taken prisoner and is thus exposed in confinement with hundreds of his mates. These diseases are carried from place to place wherever soldiers are transported, and often, when soldiers are invalided and sent home, they bring these communicable diseases with them to distribute among the civil population.

Already we have felt the lack of enough physicians to protect the health of the people at home, and the health officer is somewhat at a loss to know how to enforce his health measures.

The only solution of the problem is for the individual to give time and attention to taking care of himself. He must put himself in a receptive attitude toward the suggestions of the sanitary officer, even though he may think some of the suggestions so trifling as not to be worthy of serious consideration. There is one thing sure, and that is that he will consider it a serious matter if the disease warned against should happen to come his way.

If the writer were to think over some of the most trifling daily habits of everyone, and select the very humdrum subject of complaining about the habit many men have of drawing their trousers over their boots in undressing, instead of taking their boots off first, no doubt there would be readers who would take it as an instance of giving weight to trifles.

Yet they would be wrong. I am sure that one product of this habit is the common, yet always annoying and often dangerous, boil. A moment's thought will convince you that there is something in the theory. During a day's walking your boots have gone through miles of filth. When you slip your clothing off over them, you are taking the chance of transferring to your clothes, and thence to your body, whatever disease germs your boots may have picked up in this filth.

So these "trifles" are not always trifles. If we are going to do our duty in preserving the health of the civil population, we must have less cases of sickness than ever before, because we have decidedly less doctors at home to take care of whatever comes up. Later on, when wounded soldiers come home with unsuspected communicable diseases, we must know how to do the best thing for them and the best thing for ourselves, so that we may not have here, as they have had in foreign countries, widespread epidemics among the civil population to be a drain on the vitality of our military efforts.

Foreign Municipalities And Governments Add to Revenue With Side Lines

There are foreign municipalities as well as foreign governments that do not think it beneath them to add to their revenues by "a side line or two."

The city of Paris, for instance, increases its revenues by a few francs each year in the cultivation of a little state orchard in the Luxembourg gardens, and the same municipality also takes its share of the receipts of the Eiffel Tower.

A curious revenue accrues to the city of Palermo, which makes commercial use of its snows from the mountains. The Sicilian snow is brought down at night in baskets and shipped to the neighboring towns, where it is sold for refrigerating purposes.

The Greek government has a most profitable side line in its monopoly in playing cards, from which it derives a handsome income.

The Russian government once undertook, to its profit, a deal in junk. It was just after the Crimean war, when for months old iron, shot and shell were picked up around Sebastopol. A regular trade in this junk sprang up, thousands of tons being sold. Finally it struck the government that the idea was such a good one that it would take a hand itself. It thereupon intervened between buyers and sellers, imposing a tax of ten cents per hundredweight. It was estimated that the imperial government profited in this way to the extent of $80,000.

Country to See Greatest Athletic Activity During The Next Twelve Months

Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, director of the department of physical science at Princeton, predicts a year of unusual athletic activity among the army training camps. He says: "There will be more real and widespread athletic activity in this country during the next twelve months than ever before in our lifetime."

Doctor Raycroft is a member of the war department's commission on training camp activities.

"That the colleges have abandoned athletics is entirely a false notion that has attained too general circulation and acceptance," says Doctor Raycroft. "The colleges have not and will not abandon athletics; what some of them and abandon was intercollegiate competition."

"Take Princeton, for example. Of our student body of some 1,600 young men, nearly 800 promptly enlisted for war service and at once began training for it. It left them neither time nor opportunity to engage in competition with other college athletes, and we therefore made a virtue of necessity."

Doctor Raycroft disagrees with the popular notion that American expertness in baseball throwing will prove a distinct advantage in the hurling of bombs. Trench experience, he states, has demonstrated that the most effective results with those deadly little missiles is obtained by a forward and thrusting throw, as in shot-putting or the short-armed bowling throw which prevails in cricket. Information obtained from those who have had experience with bombs and grenades on the battlefields and in the Canadian camps indicate that the free overhand baseball throw is too prone to overshoot the mark to be of such pronounced advantage, as most Americans have fancied must prove the case.

Practically every branch of sport will be encouraged in the training camps, but it is probable that boxing will play a leading part.

Beers Stick to Weak Tobacco.
The Boers in the Transvaal smoke something that resembles a weak tea. It has a peculiar flavor and Englishmen who have become used to it never smoke any other substitute for tobacco while in that country.

This photograph of the Maximalist leader of the new Russian revolutionary government, was taken at the time he left New York to return to Russia. It carries his autographed signature for passport purposes.

Trotsky, the new leader, was born in the Russian government of Kherson on the Black Sea. His real name is Leber Braunstein. He has traveled much; leaving Russia, he visited Spain and was shipped from that country to Cuba, from whence he came to New York. He is an extreme Socialist, gifted with a forceful literary style. He advocates an immediate peace.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The golden sunshine of the Indian summer brought a large gathering to the Twaalfshill Club on Saturday afternoon. The golfers were out in force, as were all the women industriously knitting for the army in France. Mrs. Edward Cocke, Mrs. Francis J. Higginson and Miss Helen Westbrook, assisted by Mrs. A. T. Clearwater, Miss Jacqueline Winston and Miss Janet Fowler, were the hostesses who dispensed the old time bolivar. The decorations were autumn leaves.

Arrangements for the euchre and dance to be given by the Daughters of Isabella in the K. of C. Hall on Tuesday evening are fast nearing completion. This is the second of a series of card parties to be held for the benefit of the charity fund and judging from the number of tickets already sold, a record-breaking crowd will be in attendance. Clearwater-Hodrovo.
Catherine Spalding Hodrovo, daughter of Colonel Henry T. Spalding of Kealia, Hawaii, and William Mould Clearwater of New York city were married on Thursday, November 1, at the Collegiate Dutch Church of St. Nicholas, Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, New York city, by the Rev. Malcolm J. MacLeod, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Charles K. Clearwater, D. D. Mr. Clearwater is the son of the Rev. Charles K. Clearwater, of the Ulster county family of that name, the pastor of the old Reformed Dutch Church at Elmhurst, Long Island. William M. Clearwater, who graduated at Yale, was pursuing his studies at the Harvard Law School at the outbreak of the war. He volunteered with the Harvard contingent for the army, and went to the Plattsburg training camp. Prostrated by an attack of appendicitis, he was compelled to relinquish an army career, but being anxious to serve his country, applied for appointment in the diplomatic service, for which he was recommended by Senator Wadsworth. Mrs. Clearwater is the daughter of Colonel Spalding, the large sugar planter of the Hawaiian Islands, who is well known in San Francisco and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Clearwater will go to Japan.

Lowther-Smith.
The First Reformed Dutch Church was the scene on Saturday afternoon of a very pretty wedding of interest to many Kingston people, when Miss Hazel Augusta Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of 1611 University avenue, New York city, formerly of Kingston, became the bride of John Fulton Lowther of New York.

The church was artistically decorated with palms and golden chrysanthemums. A fine program of appropriate music was rendered before and during the ceremony by W. Whiting Fredericksburg, organist of the church, and Ford Hummel, violinist.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. The bride, who was unattended, wore a tailored costume of dark blue cloth and furs, and a velvet toque, her flowers being a corsage bouquet of orchids. The best man was Charles Morgan of New York city. The ushers were Prof. Hugh F. Lowther, Earl Lowther, both of New York city, brothers of the groom, Frederick Peters of Philadelphia, brother-in-law of the groom, and Arthur Ellison of this city, brother-in-law of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Edgar Lowther of St. Mary's, West Virginia, brother of the groom, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. L. Leeper, pastor of the church formerly attended by the bride's family.

Following a southern wedding feast, Mr. and Mrs. Lowther will make their home at 1611 University avenue, New York city, the groom being financial editor of the New York Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowther will take with them the best wishes of a large circle of friends in this city and at Haines Falls.

State Federation of Women's Clubs, Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12.—The twenty-third annual convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs opened here today with a meeting of the executive board, district chairmen, chairmen of standing committees and county chairmen. The convention will continue until Friday. The tri-city committee of arrangements which includes Albany, Troy and Schenectady women as hostesses for the federation, entertained the executive board at luncheon today. The main feature of the convention, the Helmut fellowship dinner, takes place this evening when the federation women will pay tribute to the honorary president, Mrs. William Todd Helmut, of New York city. Another feature on the program is the reception Tuesday night at the executive mansion by Governor Charles S. Whitman and Mrs. Whitman for the delegates, alternates and visiting club women. Important features of the convention are:

Tuesday—"Albany Day." Governor Whitman to address convention, address by William Grant Brown, president, and Mrs. William Todd Helmut, report of officers; appointment of committees.

Wednesday—"Troy Day." Presentation of distinguished guests; address by Mayor Burns of Troy; address by Dr. Bernard Glueck, director of psychiatric clinic, Sing Sing prison, "What About the People Mind?" address "The National Council of Defense," women's committee, Mrs. Stanley McCormick; reception of delegates by education department of New York state in the rotunda of the education building.

Thursday—"Schenectady Day." Election, conservation session, addresses by Mayor Linn of Schenectady and Dr. John H. Finley, president of the University of the State of New York.

Worries of a Housewife.
Women are given to worry more than men. A woman's mind is always busy. To worry a man, he finds solace in the little brown jar, says Jim in Cartoons Magazine. But women cannot look at a variety in the face with such calm abandon. They are not built that way. As near as I can make out, it is a difference in temperament. Woman is more highly organized than man. Her nervous system is much better developed. If you notice a look of worry on your wife's face and ask, "Well, what's up, dear?" she sighs and says, "Oh, dear, dear! Everything's up. We're getting old and shabby and the house is becoming dreadfully dilapidated, and now to cap the climax I've broken my mop stick!"

No Wonder They Sneeze.
The cause of hay fever is no longer a dark mystery. Here it is: Hay fever is caused by partial paralysis of the vasomotor function of the nerves of the nose, which causes membranes surrounding the bones to become filled with blood. This congestion and irritation, aggravated by pollen of weeds and goldenrod produces paroxysms of sneezing. This explanation was made before the American Osteopath association, in convention, by Dr. John W. Bailey, Philadelphia.

Freezing Did Not Kill.
Interesting experiments have been made by two chemists, who placed a small caterpillar in test tubes or petri dishes in a refrigerating mixture of ice and salt at a temperature varying between 15 and 20 degrees centigrade. The same caterpillars were frozen six times in the space of a month, and they always came back to life, but at each new freezing operation their movements and reactions to mechanical excitation became slower.

Saving the Eyes.
The eyes were made to use without a doubt. So were the hands and feet, and all can be abused and become sources of pain forever. A lifetime of ordinary vision, just seeing what goes on about us, is about all we can expect from a pair of normal eyes. Added strain like fine sewing, too much reading and poor light will use them up so much sooner. Wage-earners have to sacrifice many things, including eyes, but for absolute waste of vision there is no excuse.

Perfect Agriculture.
Hobbes, the great agricultural investigator, said: "I shall be happy if I succeed in attracting the attention of men of science to subjects which so well merit to engage their talents and energies. Perfect agriculture is the foundation of trade and industry; it is the foundation of the riches of states. But a rational system of agriculture cannot be formed without the application of scientific principles to soils, crops, actions of manures and nutrition."

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Barfoot, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Michael Tillery, and children, were at Newark, N. J., on Saturday for the celebration of her mother, Mrs. Zimmers, 80th birthday. Mrs. Zimmers was a former resident of Elster Heights and was well and favorably known.

Miss Helen Gaskell, of the Monticello High School faculty, spent the week end with her father, Alfred Gaskell.

Mr. T. Lauber has taken possession of the farm recently purchased of Mrs. D. A. Stratton. Mrs. Stratton will make her home for the present with her sister, Mrs. Walter Peaker, on Cape avenue.

Mrs. Martha Turell and daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Turell Mentley, of Middletown, were in town Thursday to pay their respects to their friend, Mrs. Dutcher, who was celebrating her 89th birthday. Mrs. Mentley, in beautiful contralto voice, sang several old time songs for Mrs. Dutcher, which were very much enjoyed. During the evening several friends called, which included Miss Evelyn B. Bailey, one of the town's best soprano singers, and she also contributed several favorite selections, and then several others calling at this time joined in singing one of this aged friend's favorite hymns, "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hours," while she joined heartily in the singing. Mrs. Dutcher is busy every day knitting for the Red Cross, having completed the sixth pair of socks for the soldier boys, and was still knitting on this her birthday. All friends join in wishing their friend so well preserved in mind and body many more birthdays, and all blessed with the love and grace of heaven.

Mrs. S. M. Gould of Hickory street is visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tallor, at Lynbrook, N. Y.

Living in Richmond of New York is visiting his mother on Cape avenue. Oliver Frank C. LaFolt, of the Nanapanoch Reformatory, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

President George F. Andrews of the Home National Bank, spent Sunday at the Andrews home at Mountdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert D. Cornelius, of the West End, have gone to visit their son, Arthur Cornelius, and family, and daughter, Mrs. Bunting, and family, at Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris and little son of Wilmington, Delaware, are spending a two weeks' vacation with Mrs. Harris's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bunting, on North Main street.

The Ellenville Poultry Club announces a meeting for Tuesday evening in the high school building, at 8 o'clock. Plans for a poultry show are to be formulated.

President of the Village Louis A. Hoornbeck calls attention to Tuesday as "Fire Prevention Day," and urges all the people to look carefully into the matter of vital interest. Inspectors of the state bureau will shortly visit the town and reports on conditions in our community will show all results of efforts.

Ellenville is to have a busy week. Entertainment as has been announced, will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening. Excellent programs are arranged to be given. Lectures, concerts and miscellaneous attractions will surely please young and old alike, and the children of the village have a large part in it.

The town board has been in session auditing the town accounts. George A. Greene is nicely recovering from an operation at the Topping Sanatorium. He is at Mrs. W. J. Terwilliger's boarding house recuperating.

Miss Sarah LeFevre of Greenfield has gone to spend the winter with her niece, Mrs. Adelbert Brown, in Jersey.

Mrs. Mary Newkirk has returned to her home at Gardiner after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lauber and Mrs. Alice Newkirk.

Miss Barrington, trained nurse, has returned from a visit at her old home in Canada. Many friends are glad to welcome her return.

Rev. Joseph E. Appleby gave an excellent sermon in the interest of the educational public of the M. E. Church Sunday morning. He had for his subject, 2 Timothy 2:15 verses. The congregation will be waited upon for subscriptions to the cause the coming week. It is of vital importance at this time.

Hugh Comfort, one of the home boys at Spartanburg, S. C., writes Mrs. Holmes of his appreciation of the package he received from the local Red Cross.

Napamuch is on the map and all the voters who voted to make it a dry village are to be congratulated, for it was carried by a majority of 70. If Ellenville had done its duty the town would now be in the dry column.

Arthur Westbrook of Hempstead, L. I., formerly one of the home boys, has enlisted in the Signal Officers' Reserve Corps, Aviation Section, for training for a commission as first lieutenant, and was to go to San Antonio, Texas, to the training school.

Mrs. Candell and two sons have moved to Walden, where the boys have positions in the knife works.

Mrs. Lillie Bloomer Lyon has been a patient at the Topping Sanatorium the past week under the care of Dr. Wilklow.

Mrs. P. S. Patterson, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at her home on Liberty street, is reported to be doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Holman entertained the members of the Woman's Club at her home at the residence of Mrs. B. B. Demarest, this Monday afternoon, and a very excellent program was arranged was given. The subject was Patriotism, and the program at its head bore the American flag, and the program followed:

"America, God Bless Her," introduced by Mrs. Holman.

Songs—"The Story of Old Glory," Mrs. John W. Rapp.

"America, Her Ancestors," Mrs. R. T. Cookingham.

Song—"Miss Demarest," Miss Demarest.

"America, Her Ideals," Mrs. E. E. Count.

Mother's Cook Book.

The grand essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

All one's self is music, if one touches the notes rightly and in tune.—Ruskin.

Meatless Meals.
As we are asked to observe Tuesday as a meatless day, which all patriotic women will be glad to do, it behooves us to look over our cook books and keep enough recipes for meatless dishes on file to escape monotony.

Lima Bean Salad.
Over a pint of cold cooked Lima beans pour three or four tablespoonsful of olive oil, two tablespoonsful of cider vinegar, one teaspoonful of grated onion, half a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of paprika. Toss and mix; serve with chopped pickle. Peanut butter added to baked beans instead of pork is a change which is liked by peanut lovers.

Onions and Cheese.
A most satisfying and wholesome dish is onions and cheese. Cook the onions until tender, then place a layer in a baking dish, then a layer of good rich white sauce and a thick layer of grated cheese, cover with another layer of onions and white sauce and finish the top with buttered crumbs. Bake until well heated and the crumbs well browned. Hard cooked eggs may be cut up and used in place of onions in place of the cheese if desired.

Nut Roast.
Take a cupful of finely chopped nut meats, add two cupfuls of bread crumbs, a minced onion, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, two tablespoonsful of melted butter, salt and pepper, two beaten eggs and enough milk to moisten. Form into a long roll, place in a greased baking dish and cover with waxed paper. Bake forty minutes in a hot oven, basting two or three times with hot water and butter. Fresh or canned mushrooms may be used for the sauce.

Celery Soup.
Cook the entire stalks of celery till tender with enough water to cover, add a small onion, a slice of carrot and a bay leaf. When tender rub through a sieve. Blend two tablespoonsful each of butter and flour and add to a pint of hot milk, cook with the celery pulp, season and serve hot with croutons.

Use of Word Filibuster.

The word filibuster goes back to the days of William Walker's fantastic enterprise against Mexico, Costa Rica and Nicaragua—that is, to the early fifties. It was adopted into political slang at once, and got into the debates of congress on January 3, 1853, as the learned know who have studied Thornton. The Cuban revolution gave it a new and vigorous lease of life.

Electric Current Warning.

Should Conserve Health.

Health is the first requisite for a useful life. One may get along without it if there is money to pay for doctors, medicines and assistance—even then, an unnecessary invalid is regarded as a burden of the earth. The ordinary person needs good health to play a satisfactory part in life and should do everything possible to secure and maintain it through all the years. With the best of intentions and care as well it is not always possible to evade illness but there is a better chance than if no attempt to avoid it had been made.

WILSON URGES LABOR TO STAND BY THE COUNTRY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Buffalo, Nov. 12.—In the most stirring speech of his career, President Wilson today, addressing the American Federation of Labor convention here, pledged anew all the power and resources of America to the destruction of the Prussian military autocracy, declared victory is the only road to peace and called upon labor for redoubled efforts towards the winning of the war.

With a fire unparalleled in all his previous war speeches, the president flayed the pacifist movement and made it clear that the patience of the government is near exhaustion in dealing with the obstructionists.

Six thousand delegates and visitors cheered the president with an enthusiasm he has not met before in the war. It left no doubt among his party as to where labor is standing in the conduct of the war.

Calling upon labor for increased endeavor in the conduct of the war, the president said:

"If we are true friends of freedom we will see that the power of this country and the productive activity of this country shall be raised to the highest degree and nobody should be allowed to stand in its way."

The president quickly followed this with a statement declaring capital more often to blame for labor troubles than the workmen.

He said he expected some "new instrumentality of co-operation between labor and capital" to be devised soon to bring about a greater industrial efficiency.

"While we are fighting for freedom we must see that labor is free," he declared.

"My counsel to you is this," he continued, "Let us show ourselves Americans by not going off to separate camps but by co-operating to release the world from bondage. That is the true test of Americanism. We are all of the same clay and spirit and we can get together if we want to."

The president drew cheers and laughter from the crowd when he explained Col. House's mission to Europe.

"You will notice," he said, "I sent a friend if mine, Colonel House, to Europe, who is as great a lover of peace as is in the world, but I didn't send him on a peace mission. I sent him on a mission to find out how the war can be won. He knows as I know that this is the way to get peace if you want it."

"I'm for you if you're for me," the president concluded. He hurried away to take the train back to Washington amid the cheers of the labor delegates.

"Princess Pat" Comes Again.

The Victor Herbert-Henry Blossom musical play, "The Princess Pat," comes to the Kingston Opera House Wednesday for matinee and evening performances after an absence of two years.

"The Princess Pat" waiters are among the most widely known waiters in America and the entire music of the play is of the melodious kind that makes an impression readily effaced. None of the musical offerings of the past few years have received warmer praise than "The Princess Pat," whose exceptional score and clean humor combine in furnishing a production of unusual entertaining ability.

Worn Blankets.

Lay smoothly upon the thin place a piece of used Merino underwear and pin it up and securely. Then begin at the lowest edge and stitch with the sewing machine, row after row successively, a quarter of an inch apart, until the extent of the patch is reached, withdrawing the pins as you proceed. This is quickly done, and is a most satisfactory method. Do not work around and around, as the goods will bulge in the middle, and half the design of the patch, that of neatness, will be a failure. Should the selvedge be frayed, turn the merino over it, including it, and stitch as directed. It is not necessary to break the machine thread for each row. Stitch the way of the stripes.

PONCKHOCKIE UNION CHURCH CELEBRATES

The Ponckhockie Union Church Congregational which was organized on November 7th, 1915, observed its second anniversary Sunday. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Moot, preached in the morning from the theme, "The Pathway to Greater Usefulness," 1 Sam. 2:22; and in the evening on "The Profit of Memory," Deut. 32:7. The attendance at both services was very large, many being turned away at the evening service unable to find seats. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Osterhout and Mrs. DuBois assisted by local talent rendered several beautiful selections. The church had been very tastefully decorated by H. C. Staples.

The growth and development of this organization under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Moot has been phenomenal. It already has nearly two hundred members. Last year they purchased a church and four building lots, paying cash for them. This year they have built a beautiful parsonage into which the pastor and family moved, November 1st. The plans and specifications for this building were drawn by Rev. Mr. Moot, who with the aid of one carpenter and a few members of the congregation has constructed the building. The church now owns a property worth $20,000 with a debt of only $2,000. Yesterday a free will offering was taken for the parsonage fund which amounted to $302.50, which added to the sums previously given makes the total free-will offering $813.50.

MARLBOROUGH DID MORE THAN ITS DUTY

To The Kingston Freeman:

It was allotted to the town of Marlborough to subscribe for $121,000 of the Second Liberty Loan. $54,550 was subscribed through the Marlborough Bank. In addition to that money from this town went to every bank in the city of Newburgh and in Poughkeepsie, and it even went to help the town of Lloyd and the Highland Bank raise its allotment of $21,000 which sum was allotted to the town of Lloyd, and was all that town raised.

There are several bank officers of these various banks residing in the town of Marlborough, and they naturally took their subscriptions through the banks with which they were doing business. The fact is the town of Marlborough is so surrounded by banks that the greater part of all financial transactions has for years gone out of the town. The amount of money received for bonds through the Marlborough Bank does not show what the town of Marlborough did in this patriotic cause of subscribing for the second issue of Liberty Bonds. The town of Marlborough furnished more money to this bond issue than the allotment of $121,000 required of it, but the system of selling bonds does not show from whence the money actually comes.

C. M. WOOLSEY,
Chairman Liberty Loan Committee,
Town of Marlborough.

On Sunday, November 18th the Lutherans of Albany and Rensselaer will celebrate the quadricentennial of the Reformation in Herman Bleeker Hall at 3 p. m. Rev. Dr. S. P. Long of Mansfield, Ohio, will be the speaker and a chorus of 300 voices will render the cantata, "The City of God." Rev. A. Schmidt, pastor of St. John's, delegate, will leave for Albany, Thursday.

Using American Methods.
Americans are introducing American business methods into the jungles, writes a correspondent. They find out what the Germans paid for certain animals and then give the natives the same amount. They justify this method on the strength of the fact that the natives get as much for the animals as if they were sold to Germans, although the Americans declare that the Germans have been making huge profits.

The roof is the last to go on your building; but the selection of an efficient and economical roof is of first importance. If you will use on your building you will get the most efficient roof, and will cut down the cost of the roof materially.

CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is economical to buy, inexpensive to lay, and it costs practically nothing to maintain. It is weathertight, fire retardant, clean, sanitary, and gives the utmost roofing service over a period of years. CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness. (1, 2 or 3 ply).

The quality and merit of CERTAIN-TEED have made it the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, hotels, factories, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings, etc. If you are building it will be to your interest to investigate CERTAIN-TEED.

There are many roll roofings, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. As it costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED Roof than it does to lay a poor roof, it will pay to get the best, and save on renewals and upkeep. You can't tell the quality of roll roofing by its appearance, or by feeling of it; your only safety is in the label. Be sure it is CERTAIN-TEED.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are made of the best quality materials and mixed by modern machinery to insure uniformity. Made for all uses and in all colors and sizes. Any dealer can get them for you. With paint and varnish, as with roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.
